Tendaji was a well-known advocate for students - he will surely be missed. Although he left U of M Flint, he continued his efforts to provide access to a college education for under-represented groups. Our community has lost a great friend and leader! Angela M. Reeves, Ed.D, L.P.C, M.S.W.

As a pillar of this generation, you will be greatly missed. I'll never forget our dialogues during my tenure at EOI, conversations about my activism in the community and rabble rousing in a good way. I would be remiss if I didn't take a moment to thank you for the impact you've had in my life, especially your "gentle nudge" to continue my pursuit of a law degree. Your words of encouragement, passion for the greater Flint community, will echo for years to come. May your legacy continue through the lives of the students you've touched over the past 20 years.

Tendaji spoke the truth. That is, unfortunately, a rare thing in today's culture. But he refused to apologize for making people uncomfortable if pointing out reality made you uncomfortable. I admired him for his courage and his vision, but, most importantly, for the fact that love powered those things. He did what he did because he cared in an enormous way. Few people will ever know what it is to love at large in the way that he did. I will like the world a little less without him in it.

We were on various programs together, and on the last occasion we were together, I spoke first, and he told me, laughingly, as he passed by me, on his way to podium, "George, you are always messing up," referring to our different view of various aspects of history, which we often talked about, especially as it relates to the history of ancient Egypt. We both enjoyed those sessions, and I will always remember fondly those talks, and our time in Nigeria together. This man was a giant, an intellectual, well-read, and well-spoken, a true light in the community.
