“ I am so sorry for your unfortunate loss. I am so very sorry that you and your family had to experience one of life's most greatest enemies...death. It seems so unfair that death should have the power to take away someone you love. And when it happens, the thought of never again being able to talk to, laugh with, or hold your loved one can be most difficult to bear. That pain is not necessarily erased by being told that your loved one is up in heaven. The Bible, however, holds out a much different hope. The scriptures indicate that it is possible to be reunited with your dead loved one in the near future, not in an unknown heaven but right here on earth under peaceful, righteous conditions. And at that time humans will have the prospect of enjoying perfect health, and they will never have to die again. But surely that is wishful thinking! some may say. What would it take to convince you that this is a sure hope? To believe in a promise, you would need to be certain that the one making the promise is both willing and able to fulfill it. In the spring of 31 C.E., Jesus Christ boldly promised John 5:21,28,29. Jesus Christ promised that millions now dead will live again on this earth and have the prospect of remaining on it forever under peaceful, paradisaic conditions. Luke 23:43; John 3:16; John 17:3; compare Psalm 37:29 and Matthew 5:5. Since Jesus made the promise, it is safe to assume that he is willing to fulfill it. Less than two years after making that promise, Jesus demonstrated in a powerful way that he is both willing and able to perform his resurrection. If you have further questions please refer to www.jw.org. I will continue to pray for you and your family at this tough sad time.
