She is a proud graduate of Beecher Community Schools, having attended grades K-12, graduating in 1973. After High School she attended Central Michigan University (CMU). Inquisitive about the world, she departed CMU and traveled to Southern California and enrolled at UCLA. She graduated from the University of California-Los Angeles with a B.A. in English and African American Studies. She attended Portland State University for training and development. Always glad to learn something new, Alfreda later enrolled in the Culinary Program at Mott Community College, following her passion for food and its preparation. She was also enrolled in the Master of Education program at the University of Michigan-Flint. World Traveler. Alfreda's love for travel and adventure, led her to become a Peace Corps volunteer, where she spent five years in the Solomon Islands, working in Rural Area Community Education. “ Oh such a loss to this wonderful woman who held so much giving to the world's bright light. Alfreda was such as asset to teaching at the U of M-Flint MAC program, and I am just so sad to hear of her passing. Just now discovered her passing in May, and wanted to express condolences to all those who loved her, as she so deserved. That smile, everlasting as will be my many memories of her, and her gentle upbeat and giving ways. Yes, story-telling too, but oh my, so much more. I so loved her in our studies at the U of M Flint many years back now. Barb Cherem

“ *I have known Alfreda Harris when we were Docents at the Flint Institute of Arts as we were volunteering Alfreda was one of the kindest souls, you didn't come across every day.
She had a true and deep understanding of cultural heritage, arts and culture and history
Her soft spoken voice carried the traditions of cultural story telling in a very intellectual, human and interesting manner
She was a beautiful person overall and she will be truly missed by everyone who had the chance and privilege of sharing a moment on earth with her
May she shine in the heavens and rest in peace
My sincerest condolences to her family and friends.*
