“ I remember the first time I looked into your eyes, honey, felt your heart. As we talked, I knew this meeting was by God’s design.

Even through my tears, memories of us make me smile.

Now I have so many wonderful memories of us to relive over and over and over for the rest of my life.

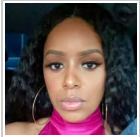

I miss you so very much. Love you always

“ To the Jones family. I am sorry and shock to hear about the loss of Allen and his son. Allen and I chatted frequently on Facebook Messenger over the past year. In fact he gave me a recipe for a Coconut Cake, which I named "The Allen Jones Coconut Cake." He made me swear I wouldn't give the recipe to anyone. I will miss our chats. We don't know the minute or the hour that we will be called home. May God rest their souls.

“ Grandpa was just a beautiful soul. He was Anthony's biggest advocate. He tried his best to make virtual learning work. And HE did. It took a ton of time but Anthony was worth it. I am just so blessed to have had grandpa in my life. I will miss him dearly!

“ Mr. Jones - what an amazing man you were! You always told us that you and AJ were the best of friends and it showed. You were the best friend, grandfather and advocate AJ could have asked for. He was so lucky to have you. Thank you for being a part of our Waverly virtual learning family - you have touched our hearts and you will be greatly missed.

“Mr. Jones, you are a true inspiration to all of us who worked with you and AJ. We often talked about how much we were in awe of your love for AJ and your willingness to do whatever it took to make sure he was learning and progressing! You took on a lot this year with online learning, but you did it all with a smile and a positive attitude! It was clear that you loved AJ and would do anything for him as you showed up every day to class and navigated that computer like a champ! I, as AJ's speech therapist, appreciated the way you made sure he was using his iPad to communicate and never backed down--even when AJ didn't really want to use it. I am hopeful that you are able to communicate with him now without any difficulties as I know that you are together. We will miss both of your smiling faces every day!
