Amieria Mi'Angel Stinnett was born May 31, 2012 in Flint, Michigan, the daughter of Le'Onda Releford and Lamont Stinnett.

From the moment I felt you, I fell in love. I'll cherish every memory of you growing inside of me. In an instant you had become the center of my universe. Eventhough I never had the opportunity to see your beautiful smile, hear your laugh or take your first steps, the image of you and I sharing these moments will stay ingraved in my heart. We would have had a ball together My'Angel. You were my heart, my flesh and bone, my everything, nothing will change that. I have lost a big part of me. Keep the sky bright, my ray of sunshine. Until we meet again our sweet Angel. Mommy and daddy loves and misses you. Forever our sweet little Angel.

She leaves to cherish her memory: parents, Le'Onda Releford and Lamont Stinnett; grandparents, Tawanna Key, Lorenzo Releford, Sr. and Harlen (Janet) Stinnett; 2 sisters; 3 brothers; a host of aunts including, Quanisha and Alyshia; host of uncles including Lorenzo Jr., Donnell, Gary and Latrielle; many cousins; a host of other relatives and friends including special cousins, Tavare Kirk, god sister, Armeria, and special friends, Constance and Sade. Amieria was preceded in death by her baby brother, Jalon Lyodd-Webb; grandparents; great-grandparents; and great aunt.

“ Dear Le'Onda and Lamont I felt your grief through the words you wrote about your baby girl. Please understand that death is not God's (Jehovah's) fault. In fact, God will use his son, Jesus to bring back to life our dear loved ones. This is called a resurrection. Read about it for yourself in the bible book of John chapter 5, verses 28 & 29. Since Jesus was put to death and resurrected by his Father, you can rest assured that your little baby can and will be resurrected! (Acts 24:15) These are God's words, not mind's.
