“ 63 years ago I met a young lady who married my brother and became my sister in law, a few years later she became my friend, then my best friend, then my sister friend. We did lots of things together and went to concerts, bus trips to casinos and church and I always told Barb to “save me a seat”, I couldn’t love any friends or relatives anymore than I love Barb, I always told people that Barbara was my sister and my brother was Barbs husband, we would talk on the phone for hours,,when the cell phone died, I would switch over to the land line. Sadly for the very last time I get to tell my sister, ”RIHP and Save Me a Seat”.
