On September 30th, 2023, she transitioned from this life to rest in the arms of Jesus. Her family will remember her as a woman who loved cooking. To her family, holiday meals were a manifestation of love. Her love for cooking was extended to the community and even to the church. Mother Mays valued hard work; she was one of the first black women to move her family from a place of struggle to a home in a predominately white neighborhood. This translated to a better school district, a better way of life, and greater resources. As a homeowner for the first time, she often worked three jobs. Maintaining several streams of revenue became an intermittent pattern throughout her life. Ironically, cooking was an integral part of this pattern. Whether selling chicken dinners to her co-workers or opening a candy store in the back of her daughter's home; she was an industrious woman. Known to many as "Miss Bessie, Mama, and Mother Mays," she served in both the Eliezer Church and Refuge Temple Church of Our Lord

Jesus Christ for a combined total of 45 years. In the world of work, punctuality was her trademark. Mother Mays worked for Chevrolet Truck and Bus, a division of General Motors Corporation, holding many job titles in her 21 years of service, including line inspector. She was a member of UAW #598. Mother Bessie Ruth Mays leaves to cherish her memory: her brother, Lewis (Lois) Bell, Jr.; daughters, Jacquelyn (Huda) Townsend, Wonda Bearyman, and Jasmine Myles; honorary daughters, Deb Odom, NaRotha Ogden, Janice Jones, and Nancy Voilette; grandchildren, Kim Armstrong, Rendell (Unika) Odom, Roderick (Mandi) Odom, LaTasha Wilson, Alicia Bearyman, Adam (Cymone) Bearyman, Leslie Price, Shakera (Osai) Robinson, Angielic Reed, Sarai McDonald, MarQues Ogden-Colston, Timothy House, and Timothy Harris, Jr.; great-grandchildren, Deonica Jackson, Alaysia Gatewood, Le'Asiah Odom, Dwayne R.L.
