Words can not express the pain and the loss. My friend, my sister maybe gone but never will be forgotten! I would never have thought that one person could've affected another life as Bonnie has inspired my life. My friend, my sister, my twin mind! Without saying a word, we know one another thoughts; as sister-friends do. I can still hear your laughing, your smile and the look you give when someone messed up "my no nonsense friend". To James and her family my condolences goes out to you! Words can never express how much you have lost. My friend, my sister is now in the arms of our Lord. It makes me pray more and have stronger Faith in the Lord, knowing one day I will see her again! What a loss to this world, and many broken hearts are lifted to pick up the pieces that may never be put back again! But we must trust in the Lord and knowing His plans are the right plans! We will understand in His time! The family will stay in my prayers! Love you all!
