“ Calvin, I met you through our friend Nisha and we shared many crazy phone conversations. You made me laugh so hard I couldn't catch my breath at times. Then I met you in person and it got worse. We stayed at your house for hours that Saturday while you tried to find me the perfect video and each one was worse than the one before it, but it was fun searching. I will always remember you and that day. I felt so comfortable at your crib chilling and listening to your tall tales. They could have been true I could never tell when you were serious. I know I made you nervous at first but that was just me playing with you. That was a good day. You will be missed and mourned. Our crew is still in shock, especially Nisha bcuz you guys had a special friendship. May you keep them laughing over there. My prayers are with your family and friends. Much Love, Munch.
