“ Mrs. Catherine Wash was my neighbor. She was friends with my mother, and they were very close. They used to walk the neighborhood together and talk often. I am so happy and blessed that she lived next door to me. She and Graham were wonderful people and some of the strongest Christians that I ever knew. After my mother passed, I continued to visit Mrs. Wash and it was always a joy to be in her presence. She loved to talk about the days when she was younger, the challenges that she had, but it always ended with how God brought her through. I loved hearing those stories though they may have been repeated often. There was one time she allowed me to stay in her home overnight because I was locked out. She was so compassionate, caring, and thoughtful. She never passed up an opportunity to help others. I will miss her, but Heaven has just gained another angel.
