“ *To the Turner Family:
She was a daughter, sister, mother, and a faithful servant to our community for the Lord. Her work was not in vain. Her faithfulness God saw as he lead her with wisdom & beauty. Glory to God her light shines in the hearts of so many. Comfort and peace to you as God wipes away all tears during your most difficult time. Prayers!

“ There really isn't any words at this present moment that could heal what you are feeling and going through right now, just know that you are loved and prayer is what's going to get you through these hard times which we all must face one day! Celia,we love you and will miss your smile and sweet voice, but we know it's only for a short while for we will meet again on the other side(GOD'S KINGDOM) where there's howdy, howdy and never goodbye. Till then,we love you and THANKS for being a Dear and True FRIEND! Terry, Lennon and I love you all, know that we are praying for you, and that we are here for you as well.

“ To Terry, Terry Jr. and Raphael and the Moore Family:

Long before we had ever heard of a Michelle Obama, Oprah Winfrey, Barbara Jordan, Condoleezza Rice and saw the beauty of a Halle Berry, We had in our mist the presents of a Celia M. Turner, which was a combination of all of these great woman collectively into one. I thank God for having the opportunity to have traveled with her on her journey in life.

Her beauty, compassion, dedication, loving spirit, grace, style and sense of humor will forever be remembered, and will always occupy a special place in my heart forever and ever. I will truly miss our special relationship. Rest in peace my Girl, for you have ran the race and finished the course,

So, Terry, Terry Jr. and Raf. just know that God looked down in his garden and saw what a beautiful rose he had , so he picked that Rose to help complete his heavenly garden . May God continue to hold you all in the hollow of his hands.

Miss Me, But Let Me Go

*When I come to the end of the road,
and the sun has set for me.*

I want no rites in a gloom-filled room.

Why cry for a soul set free?

*Miss me a little-but not too long,
and not with your head bowed low.*

Remember the love that was once shared.

Miss me, but let me go.

For this is a journey we all must take, and each must go alone.

It's all a part of the master's plan, a step on the road to home.

When you are lonely and sick of heart, go to the friends we know.

Bear your sorrow in good deeds. Miss me, but let me go.

“ After reading the tributes, I am afraid I have nothing fresh to share, because my experience with Celia mirrors others. However, I should note that during the particularly turbulent junior and senior high years we shared (I, FCHS class of 73, Celia class of 72), Celia was an encouragement - always a warm smile and a kind word. I lost touch with Celia following high school, but we share something now that will bridge the years and extend into eternity: a faith in our Master and King, Jesus. I am praying for her dear husband and children - it's all I can do, and the best that any can.
