“ So very sorry to learn this news and sending nothing but love with heartfelt condolences to all of family. Charles was my life string after my brother Johny Boler's transition, assisting with Mom's property. And Cathy was here in Atlanta with support when Johny passed. Charlita and I shared years during middle school orchestra days. God's blessings and comfort.

“ Uncle Bro lifted me up, literally as a kid and figuratively as an adult. He was a cool uncle when I was young, and we became a team as I grew up. His distinct voice will forever live on in my head, as will the way he used to ring the doorbell when visiting my mom and me. He met the man who would become my husband on one of those visits and teased him by calling him "Bill" and "John" until it was clear he wasn't going anywhere; then, they became friends. We forged a stronger bond even after I moved far away, and I'm glad the minion had a chance to experience his great-uncle's love and generosity last summer. We all loved him and will miss him.

“*Bro is the name I shortened from "My Baby brother" when my younger sibling became taller than me. The name stuck. He became my best friend. Friendship that included sharing swings and my new bike; parties with him and his buddies at my Ann Arbor apartment during school years; his stint as my daughter's first babysitter; and all of his thoughtful, selfless help during my illness as he looked after my wellbeing. He helped me so much over the last few years. Not being able to help my brother or to comfort him in some way has been so hard. All of us will miss your presence. “ Bro was one of those rare people in life whose act of living changed the lives of those around him. He invested his time and energy in supporting our efforts to be our best. You could be sure that during our challenges, he was always there. He was everyone's best friend. To you Cecelia...to you Mike, Sam, and Tammy...to all of his family and many friends...may God ease the pain of losing a man as special as Bro. We will miss you Bro, we all wanted more time, be in God's care and keeping. Love always...The Walker Household.
