Very nice service, for a very special man. Sad that more of us couldn't be there in person, because of the times we are living in. I was out side and went to the cemetery, and look forward to a time when we can all celebrate his life together.

RIP my dear dear friend,

I met Cliff Taylor at a bowling alley 35 years ago. He was a proud man, and had a presence when he walked into a room. He had the most beautiful smile and I was lucky to call him my friend. He became CT over the years when him and TJ and Duncan bowled together. He is gone way to soon..... and will be missed by everyone who knew him. I will cherish the memories that my family and I have of Cliff. My prayers go out to the family. GONE ! but never forgotten.

“ I met Clifton (Cliff as I affectionately called him) through his sister Kathy Taylor over 25 years ago and I must say the Taylor family all have such a pleasant disposition. Cliff treated me like I was his little sister.always pleasant and so much fun to be around. He would share some of his State police stories at some of the family gatherings I attended and there was NEVER a dull moment. Yes, He was a gentle giant and always greeted you with a smile. I prayed for God's healing power to Cliff when I received the phone call that He was in the hospital and when I was informed Cliff had passed I prayed God's comfort for the family. Earth has no sorrow that Heaven cannot heal. Lift up your eyes to the hills from whence cometh your help and know that God is ALWAYS there to comfort and strengthen you as you go through these waters. We love you and will continue to pray for you.

“ Saturday, April 18, 2020 I lost a friend. I knew Cliff for 20 years as we worked security for a Gem and Jewelry show that came to town 3 times a year; first in Troy, and for approximately the last 10 years at the Embassy Suites Hotel in Livonia. He would always greet me at the start of the show with a handshake and a bear hug. And he always asked how I was doing, how was the family. He was as big as a sumo wrestler and could take care of business if need be. But he was also a gentle giant. He worked days with his partner and I worked midnight's with a partner. At the end of the show, at the last shift change, we sometimes would all sit and talk a while. We'd share "war stories" and just talk and visit. We barely got in the last show in mid-March before the quarantine. And as always, when we parted, we would tell each other to take care and, "I'll see you at the next show." In March we talked of hoping the quarantine would be lifted in time for the July show and told each other we hoped to "see you in July." It was not to be. He was an exceedingly good man and it was my privilege to be able to call him my friend. Cliff's watch is over and those of us who are left will do the best we can to hold the line. He will NEVER be forgotten and I will miss him.

“Cliff and I met in 1979 and became instant friends, and have stayed that way since then. I was TJ to him, and he was CT or Cliffy to me. We started out playing softball together then bowled on the same team for 25 years or so. Had season tickets together during the “Bad Boys” era, and, also had Lions tickets right up till this year. We went on many trips to many places over the years. Enjoyed doing things with him and Barb often. We were always there for each other during the best and worst of times, and he will never be forgotten.

“ There were five of us sent to the Flint Post in early 1979 from the 95th Recruit School of the Michigan State Police. I called Cliff CT because he always called me TP. The first thing you noticed about Cliff besides his size and presence, was his gigantic smile. This in turn made everyone around him smile. Cliff was one of those troopers that you were proud and happy to have as a partner and felt confident heading into any situation. And oh the monumental softball games that Post 35 had with the attorneys and Flint City Police We fed off of Cliff's competitive spirit. My wish is that the Lord give him eternal rest and let His perpetual light shine upon him always. From my wife Debbie and I our heartfelt condolences to Barb and the entire Taylor family.

I'm sitting here reading all the wonderful memories from my uncles co-workers, family, and friends. I want to say THANK YOU from the entire Taylor Family! This has been rough because my uncle was Stern but Very loving! He didn't play but, as I got older he became like a second father. He always checked on me and always had a shoulder for me to lean on. He was the leader of the Taylor family and he lead Well! He always knew what each of us needed. Uncle I'm going to miss you who is going to help me keep my Dad in check? Who is going to trust me to drive and stay awake to keep me company? Who is going to kick me in the butt when I need it? Who's shoulder will I lean on to cry? More importantly who will be their to hug me? You have always been so strong this is all very hard to believe. I will keep going as you have taught me over the years but I will never forget you and I will still look to you when its time to deal with your brother. He misses you soooooo much! He called me and said I was watching the game and went to call Bro and I quickly remembered he won't answer. It was silent for about 2min which felt like a life time. I can't take your place Nobody can but, I will try to be a good daughter and even watch all the sports with Dad even though I would rather be doing something else lol! I won't say good by I will just do like you every time we parted ways "GONE!" I love you UNC!
