“ I have found that sometime is not so much that it is fresh and new, but that a loved one is gone, it's the hurt, the pain, the sadness, the grief that you will miss them dearly. It is the days and years after, that you don't have your Husband, your Dad, Grandfather, Great Grandfather, your brother, our Uncle or Friend to call, to go by and see, you don't have him to come over, to see him, to talk, laugh, or to cry. I know it may not be easy today, but think of his beautiful smile and his laughter. Think of what he said that encouraged you, how he made you laugh. You will find he is still there, not in the physical body, but in the inner most part of your heart, I will not forget my last visit with my uncle as always he was funny, he will truly be missed, he lived a good long life. I am truly grateful for him stepping out on faith as the Matriarch of his entire family. He reached back and pulled 6 of his siblings to start a new Journey in Life that has been all of amazing. Thank you Uncle Clinton, we love you and we miss you ❤️ your niece Shaun Dulaney-Davis

“ Our condolences to Mother Leflore and family! Mr. Leflore was a very friendly, quiet man. We always had good but short conversations when ever we were around each other. But he mostly referred me to Mother Leflore when I called. LORD, please wrap your loving and comforting arms around the Leflore family during their hour of grief, In Jesus Name, Amen! ❤️❤️❤️❤️❤️ 🙏🙏🙏🙏🙏

“ Dearest Aunt Toot and Cousins Maurice, Denise, Jerome, and Quentin, Grands, and my aunt's and uncles: I was saddened to hear of the earthly loss of Uncle Clinton. I thank Uncle Clinton for the courage it took for him to leave MS in the 1940s and travel to a totally new place on the promise of a better life. His faith and his decision changed our lives and we are thankful to God for Uncle Clinton's sacrifice.

Uncle Clinton is also why I drink my coffee with cream only. According to him, you can drink coffee black; or you can take cream (milk) or sugar but not both!

Family, Earth has no sorrow that Heaven cannot heal.
