Clyde "Randy" McClelland was born in Asheville, North Carolina on November 9, 1953 to Lessie Craig McClelland and John Clyde McClelland.

Randy graduated from High School in 1971 and almost immediately entered the workforce. He spent a few years working at the Ford Motor Plant in Detroit, Michigan while helping care for his mother.

Randy later moved to California and eventually graduated from the police academy in San Francisco. After a brief stint in the force, Randy explored several different career paths, including positions with Folgers and Frito Lay before finding steady work in the pharmaceutical industry. He worked as a scientific engineer and manager for over 25 years in the Bay area.

Randy was someone who marched to the beat of his own drum. He loved the things he loved and didn't follow too many trends. An avid basketball fan, Randy cheered on his Warriors and Pistons whenever he could. Randy owned a staggering and eclectic collection of music including blues, jazz, opera, pop, hip hop, R &B and more. One of his favorite pastimes was cranking up his stereo equipment and jamming to his favorite tunes. Randy was united in holy matrimony to his loving wife, Gloria Jean.

Mr. Clyde Randolph "Randy" McClelland leaves to cherish his memories: his wife, Gloria Jean McClelland of Flint, Michigan; his daughter, Veronica McClelland of Los Angeles, California; and his son, Sean Atkins of Germany. Clyde also leaves two sisters, Johnny Herring of Massillon, Ohio and Donna Williams of Detroit, Michigan; three sisters-in-love, Dorothy (Kenneth) Franklin, Joyce (Levan) Whiteside, and Judy Jackson, all of Flint Michigan; brother-in-love, Larry (Phyllis) Jackson of Flint, Michigan. Randy also leaves a host of nieces, nephews, and cousins from state to state as well as dear friends, Curt, George, Cookie and Matt.

Randy was preceded in death by his parents, Mrs. Lessie Craig McClelland and Mr. John Clyde McClelland; his mother-in-love, Janie Jackson; and his brother-in-love, Willie "Bug" Jackson Jr.

The family would like to express their sincere thanks to the entire staff of the Hurley Medical Center.
