“ Sgt Colin Perry will be sincerely missed, he was caring person and police officer who never let his position cause him to lose his civility and respect for those he worked with and served. Believe me the humility Colin had could not be taught and should be a part of the police culture when working for and serving the public. He will be missed by co-workers and friends. Fmr. Following his retirement from the City of Flint police department, he became the first police officer hired by the newly formed Mott Community College police department under the direction of Chief Clydell Duncan where he once again served with distinction.

Perry loved to travel, to hunt and he was an avid Gardner. He loved his family, his children and grandchildren and the community that he so diligently served.
