Ms. Debra Sue Wilbanks was born on December 24, 1958 in Flint, Michigan, the daughter of Vernon and Helen Wilbanks. Debra was a very wonderful and special person who was full of life. She was also a great loving mother and grandmother to all of her grandkids including her special granddaughter, Tayaka Wallace. In her own way, Debra was a wonderful diva who loved shopping and was never seen in anything twice. Ms. Wilbanks was a wonderful diva in her own way. She taught her children that "they were all they had, and to stay together as one." Debra was a child of God, saved and filled with the Holy Spirit and was a member of Church of Trinity Pentecostal. Her battle with dialysis lasted a strong seven years. Ms. Debra Sue Wilbanks leaves to cherish her memory: 3 beautiful children: 2 daughters, Chaka and Tanika Wilbanks; son, Douglas Coleman III; stepdaughter, Gevetta Cain; 5 grandchildren, Tayaka and Talaka Wallace, Talaya Debra Sue Wilbanks, Tonorya and Rory Matthews; 2 brothers, Anthony (Sabrina) and Willie (Barbara) Wilbanks; 7 nieces; 4 nephews; a host of aunts, uncles and cousins including special cousin, Brenda Knox; special friends including: number one daughter, Chaka Wilbanks, Ellen Thomas Ward, Rotha Hermon, Michelle Coleman, Connie Spicer, Mrs. Moore, Lula Donaldson, Jennifer Hudson and Karla Purifoy. Ms. Wilbanks was preceded in death by her parents, Vernon and Helen Wilbanks; sister, Barbara Wilbanks. The family would like to express special thanks to the Davita Dialysis staff, the Church of Trinity Pentecostal family, and Douglas, "thank you for holding momma's hand all the way through 'til she was finally at peace."
