“ My good friend, Deloris. A strong woman of faith and courage who fought valiantly against her body's afflictions. Her love for her children was one of her strongest motivators.

To the Logan & Muldrew family - may you sense His tender words being spoken to your heart, "I am your God, and I will be your comfort."

“ I'll Be Back For You

My Dear Jessika and Josee,

*Today I heard your heart's cries,
I saw the tears falling too
And all the pain that filled your eyes
As I was watching over you*

*I know the sorrows that you hold inside
And how hard it is for you to let go
For I once walked thru the valley of sorrows
That seems so sad and long*

*The Human Nature inside of me
Also cried out in despair
And ask this question too...
My God, My God why have you forsaken me
As my Human Spirit
Was feeling ever so alone
Even the Ten Thousands stood in await
That could have came to me
I chose to follow thru
What God had planned for me*

*It's Only Human Nature Jessika and Josee
To have these feelings too
For Sorrows will come into your life
To make you feel this way too*

*But just remember how much I Love You Both
And that you both are never really alone
For I walk with you both daily
Thru the Valleys that seem so long*

You have so much hope in the furture

*That I have prepared just for you both
Just read John 14:1-3
And then this you both will know too...
I'll be back for you both,*

Love Jesus

“ I met Deloris at Creative Expressions Dance Studio where our oldest daughters studied dance together 8 yrs ago. I then began to transport our girls to class from Pierce School so she would not have to rush from work. I also had the opportunity to attend some events that she put together while she was employed at Baker College. Just this past summer, I ran into her and the girls at Chuck E. Cheese and we hugged each other, laughed, talked, caught up and reminiscenced. She was always kind and positive. I truly believe that God had a hand in us meeting. She never let her illness get her down. Family, she will suffer no more!

“ I am so sorry for the loss of Deloris. We had a close relationship. I had an opportunity to meet her in the early 90's. I enrolled at Baker. At the time, we had met, I was very confused. She helped me for years. The thing that I liked about her the most was she loved the Lord. Deloris prayed for me everytime I had left her office. She would call me from home, check on me I went by her office everyday. It had become such routine where I did not even need an appointment. She loved her Dahl. I will never forget her. She was an amazing women.

“ I was sorry to hear the news. As a new employee Deloris' kindness and caring was easy to see, she extended an introduction to me before I had the chance to welcome her. She is one of those rare individuals whose nature is pure kindness and caring. MCC students and staff were lucky to have her as a shining example of how to conduct oneself in life. She will be remembered.
