Mama Mae will always be here for you. I love you as if you were my own. I'm just a phone call away. I will meet my sister again on the other side. I'm so sorry that I cannot be there because of health reasons. My heart is with all of you and I'm there in spirit.*

*Love you all,
Mama Mae*

“ My mother is gone, loving God. I am so grateful I was at her side as she breathed her last, her agony complete. She lived a full and complete life and all of us felt relieved, for a moment, when she finally slipped away to be at your side.

But now I am left with the sorrow and grief. My mother is gone. My mother who had been a part of my life for each day of it, is not here. I have such a sadness and it surprises me.

In her years of Alzheimer's, it seemed as if she died a little each day. The differences were almost invisible, but real. She responded less, sang less, prayed less. She became unsteady on her feet, then she couldn't walk, then she no longer spoke. Finally, her loving eyes gazed on me with no recognition.

Watching that decline was hard over the years and I grieved every time I saw her. I was letting her go with each visit as she slowly moved through the sacred "thin spaces" to be with us a little less each day, and as she drew a little closer to you each day.

Help me to rejoice with my mother in her new life of the resurrection. This is what her faith taught her and help that belief bring me comfort in my sorrow.

Rest in Peace Momma, I will forever love you!

“ Rest in peace to a beautiful woman (inside and out). I couldnt have wished or dreamed of a more wonderful grandmother. Not perfect but the closest thing to it. In her eyes i never did wrong and i will always love her for that. Sad that she's gone but happy she's out of pain. Glad I was there to hold her hand and rub her leg as she took her journey back home. I told you everything was gon be okay granny and see... you're home already:) SEE YOU SOON GRANNY MOMMA! LOVE YOU BABY! && Thank you for taking take of me these 18 years.

“ To the Craig Family:

We are deeply saddened by the loss of Mrs. Dorothy (Dot) Craig. The reality of her passing is very painful for us to bear. We will always remember Mrs. Craig as the matriarch of Burgess Street because she demonstrated the true meaning of the African Proverb, "It takes a village to raise a child." She accepted me as one of her own, with her welcoming, kind and generous spirit. A few months ago, mom and I were blessed with an opportunity to visit with her. The same loving spirit that I had remembered growing up was still present in her conversation and smile. For this and so much more, we will forever be grateful for the blessings of her influence in our lives. We cannot begin to know the depth of your sorrow, but please be comforted by the thought that many people hold fond memories of Mrs. Craig. Our prayers and thoughts and prayers are with all of you.

“ *My Dearest Sweet Loving Granny,
I can remember as if it was yesterday being a little 7 year old girl hopping in your bed with you....watching The Young & Restless. Laughing along with you as if I knew what Victor Newman was talking about, even though I had no clue. I just loved being with you and being in your presence, the love I felt when I came over every weekend I spent with you will and always be UNFORGETTABLE. Your beautiful smile, the hugs, and the laughs we shared I will truly miss a lot. I am glad to have shared these 31 yrs with you. I love you so much Grandma Dot. I know now you are pain-free and God had to take you away with him, but your loving presence will follow me for the rest of my life. So go ahead Granny, I'm OK. Just rest and know your loving granddaughter Ray love you.*

“ Rest in Peace to a beautiful lady. I think of all the years that I had the chance to run in and out of your house, all the times we laughed and all the conversations we shared over the last 50 years. That's a long time to love someone. I thank you for the advice and lessons. As you journey back home, you will remain in my heart. Sleep now.

“ It is always difficult to lose a family member & friend. With faith, I hope you can all draw comfort in the fact that she is in a much kinder, gentler place & free of any worries, pain or suffering. Cherish the memories, they are yours & can never be taken from you. My thoughts & prayers are with all family and friends during this time.

“ Sorry to hear about the loss of your loved one. Death is an enemy that we will never get use to. In my times of sorrow I have found comfort in John 5:28,29 which says that one day we will see our loved ones again.
