“ Mr. Carr was a "Giant" in more ways than one. He was part of my life both personally and in his professional capacity. He taught me that it wasn't always necessary to try and prove that you were the "baddest or toughest" man in the room. There was always someone badder and tougher. Always try to be the better man in the room.

“ I will never forget how Uncle Buddy always made time to spend with my family, whenever we visited Flint. Nor, shall I forget the numerous stories he shared of his childhood upbringing. Especially, the stories that he told about the Sears catalog :-), and the metal basins (tubs) that they used for bathing! He used to brag about being one of the best track athletes in Flint, and I asked him if he held any track records in Flint, to which he replied, "they are in the archives somewhere".

I heartily laughed at and loved the way he ended his stories with his famous quote, "they don't know nothing about that"! What a great uncle he was; but his pride and joy, was his family!! He loved the family that he and Aunt Loretta shared, he was a doting father and grandfather. I end this tribute with this statement; "what a man, he was!" Rest in Peace, dear Uncle.

Love and prayers to my Aunt Loretta and cousins; God bless you all!

My condolence to the family. Buddy was just a nice guy, he was our family barber for years as I grew up. Back when they came to your house, with a little black bag with all their tool in it , looking like a Doctor making a house call. 😭 Rest in peace...
