“ Judging from all those posting condolences, she will be missed. Jesus Christ holds out the hope that we will see her again, but this time under perfect earthly conditions. That is partly why he died, so that the earth one day soon will be left without sin and sinners. Notice what our future can be like, if we do what he directed at John 11:25, 26. Earth started out as a paradise, and Jesus died 1,984-years ago to make it that way again. But we who wish to welcome back our loved ones have to do something now in order to be there when Jesus brings back the dead. Can you figure out what he said will be the key for us that opens the door of paradise for us in those two verses?

“ We must mourn and we must cry when our love ones die. Know that God feels for us during these times of loss. He will give all the hope, courage and strength to deal with the sting of death. He also promises us that death, mourning, pain and outcry will be no more. Deepest sorrows for your loss of Elizabeth.
