Ethel Mae Davis was born September 15, 1925 in Macon, Georgia to Alzona and Robert Jordan. She attended Flint Northern High School and graduated in 1948. Ethel held many jobs to provide for her family. She was a faithful member of Macedonia Missionary Baptist Church and loved to spend her time reading her bible. She spent her later years on the Mission board and working in the clothing room.

Ethel loved being surrounded by her family. She held many holiday gatherings in her home. She was an awesome cook and passed down many of her recipes. In her spare time, she loved watching game shows, shopping, traveling, and playing cards. On Sunday mornings she spent her time reading her bible, praying, and listening to her favorite gospel songs.

Ethel spent countless hours teaching her family life lessons and stressing the importance of family togetherness. She was loving, sassy, uplifting, and straight to the point. She had a distinctive laugh that will forever be missed.

She was preceded in death by mother Alzona Jordan, father Robert Jordan, sons Lamont Cook, Bruce Cook, and Tyrell Cook. Cousin Arnithia Burke. She leaves to cherish sister Rolena Jordan. daughter Damita Clark, granddaughters Keyla Cook, Kimjanna (Edward) Horne, and Keisha Cook. Grandsons Stacy Dean, Tyrell Cook Jr., and Addiah Pea.
