“ I met Mrs. Glorie about 25 years ago through her neighbor and my friend. I will miss seeing her smile and "catching up" with her about things that have transpired since we last talked. Our last conversation was about her grandson, Isaiah. He was the apple of her eye. I will miss my friend down here, but I feel confident in saying she was prepared for the day when she would make her transition. To the family take comfort In knowing she loved and cared about all of you.
