“ Can't believe you are gone. I remember when you were one of the smartest kids at King school and handsome. Over the years we drifted in different directions but I would have memories of King school drop in my spirit from time to time. Greg Dudley, Keith Hamm, D. Stone, Jerry Washington, Arthur Williams and Herb Mcgowan would be the people that popped up and I would just started laughing about the crazy things that happened. King school was different but it left a bond of life long friendships with memories that bring so much laughter. Greg you were the smartest boy that I couldn't beat when it came to math but I did win that race down the hill even though I fell 😂😂😂😂 Rest easy Greg and you are loved my King school friend.
