“ To the family and loved ones of Mr. Perkins as we called him in the Stewart/Fulton Street neighborhood. Mr. Perkins was well liked and respected by all in the neighborhood. He was more like family to most of us then just a neighbor. He loved to laugh and was always upfront with everyone, correcting you if you were out of order. We used to gather at his house, even people from as far Alabama, his home state, would come, listen to the music, usually blues; laughing; joking and just having a good time. In the summer, there were always a line of cars in front of his home, people loved him. He always made you feel welcome. He was a trusted and true friend to all of us. He respected all of us and, we respected him. I would also like to say, don't tell him bye, only tell him "See you later." He is only gone home to the Almighty God. I can imagine the reunion in Heaven with his coming home; his brother Harrison; his friends; his neighborhood friends, wow what a shouting good time they will have when they see him! Mr. Perkins, do me a favor, tell my mother and my brothers hello for me and, I will see you all later. Yes, I will see you all later, and I plan to live my life in such a manner that when I leave this place we are passing thru, I to can join that reunion in Heaven with our Father God. Take care, See you later. LaVerne
