“ To the Stinnett family.

I had the honor to work side by side with Chuck for the past 4 1/2 years at General Motors. I have heard so much about all of you. Its almost like I know you all personally. Therefore I know the pain and anguish of losing Chuck that is being felt. I sit here thinking of all the good times and laughs I shared with Chuck. And the difficult times of losing some of our family members. And the times we shared not agreeing with each other at times. But we always overcame those bad times together. I'm just glad the good times outweighed the bad. I spoke to Chuck just a few weeks before his untimely departure. And he opened my eyes to who I really am. He told me no matter what happens to never change who I was. So I will honor his request. And stay true to who I am. When Chuck needed something I would try to drop what I was doing and be there for him. When he would call I would be there to listen.

There are so many things to say about him. Its just so hard to know where to start and stop. One thing I know for sure. Is that I can honestly say that I am proud to say that Chuck Stinnett will always be my friend. God bless you all Stinnett family. My prayers are with you all during this times of grieving.

To Chuck,

My friend you may not be here with us visibly on earth. But you will always remain a constant reminder of what friends really are. You will always be in my memory and heart till we meet again. I love ya man. Keep em busy till we see ya there.

In closing the famous last words Chuck always said when talking to him in person or phone.
