“ Only God knows when our work is done because we would never let go of our loved ones for Him to call them home. There are so many kind words of Jamie from childhood on that exemplifies the beautiful job Henry Sr and Jane did with him. Who could ever let go of his light, love, humor, intellect, or kindness. We can only pray for comfort for the family and those touched by him. Rest in Power Jamie. 🙏🌸💔💚☐

“ It is with deep sympathy, I send my heartfelt condolences to Mr. & Mrs. Henry Clark Sr., Sister Carla and Family. May God strengthen and comfort you during this very difficult time. Please know that my thoughts and prayers are with you.

Jamie will always be remembered by the Coolidge Ballers led by Jim Cleaves, Henry Clark Sr. and the rest of "The Fellas" that came through Coolidge to hone their hoop skills every week, especially his boys Bryan (B-Mac) and Darwin (Dar) Moore! Jamie would often open the gym in the absence of Mr. Cleaves or his dad Mr. Clark, to make sure we stayed on our weekly hoop schedule to get our run in.

I was given the honor to write one of Jamie's recommendation letters for his admittance to law school, in which I took great pride to help uplift, encourage and spring a young brother striving to become a bright legal minded lawyer, while fighting against All Odds! Jamie and his family were so proud of him when he passed the bar to become a lawyer in Michigan before spreading his wings to Arizona and Texas. Everywhere Jamie went and everything he did was executed with swag, style, grace and a high standard of excellence!

Jamie represented his CMU Chips well and was an avid fan of the Michigan State Spartans. His influential leadership touched many lives and served as a humble role model in several communities.

Jamie will always be remembered as a pillar and staple in the private legal sector. Another bright legal mind is gone to soon, but his footprints will always be remembered. Rest Well My Brother, Rest Well.

With Love, Peace & Blessings!

“ Jamie was my closest friend throughout law school in Detroit years ago. We were inseparable. Between annoying everyone in class, to playing on the same basketball team, to endless nights causing havoc - either just us or with his friend Darwin and my cousin Joe. And for some years beyond. Admittedly lost touch a bit when he moved away but there's no end of stories of anecdotes of my time with Jamie that I have bored my current spouse, friends and staff with. One of the best persons I have ever met - he will be deeply missed. My deepest sympathies to his loved ones. Class act and one of a kind.

“ Jamie and I played one of the most epic April fools jokes of all time. It’s legendary. We got married in a fake wedding in a chapel On Flushing on April fools day in our 20’s on April 1, 1997. We were both fairly new lawyers and had become friends. Judge Beagle was in on it and performed the ceremony. We even had a small reception. We laughed for many years that’s why neither of us were getting married is because we already tried that. He never got married and I’ve only been married for 11 years. He promised to come back for a 30th anniversary. We had our first at the white horse and we wanted to go back there for the 30th and show the VCR tape at Judge Beagle’s suggestions. Over the years, we stayed friends and he played on my softball team and came to many parties and a few years ago when I needed a judge for an Albanian beauty pageant in Dallas I asked him to do it, and he came, and was one of the judges along with my real husband. I have a picture with both of them together. It was great. I and so many others have so many fun and fond memories of him over the years. There is not one April 1 that we have Gone without talking or texting for our “anniversary”. He always laughed said we have the best “marriage” ever because we’ve never even had one argument. I will remember him every April 1 for the rest of my days. It’s so sad to see him gone far, far too early. Sincere heartfelt condolences are sent to his sister and parents and other family and good friends.

I remember I kissed him on the cheek as called for in the play. We were grossed out because of the cootie factor. After that Jamie was one of the nice guys. He was so talented at everything! I pray your family finds peace in the days to come. Lori Swart-Ward
