“ Henry was also my student for a year while at King School. He was sweet and kind, and I enjoyed him so much. My deepest sympathy to his family, especially to his mother who is a wonderful person. Henry will be dearly missed, I know, and I will keep his family in my thoughts and prayers.

“ May God bless you Hank...this is a very troubled world and not anything like God designed...but by my belief is it's not out of God's hand. I look at you still as a kid even though I know for sure you had grown to a young man. I am so sorry that this has happened. I preferred to see our youth blossom and beat all odds that this confusing world have set against them. I love that smile and I will always remember it...keep them cornish hens...lol...peace!
