“ I want to say a few things and this may seem out of place to some but I personally don't care, as my long lost grandfather didn't care about us. I see the many comments of how great he was, I wish I could have known him maybe I would think much differently about him. I mean this in no disrespectful way but I can't come out and say what I feel without the secrets coming to light. No one knew of my father his oldest son, and when I tried to reach out to this family I was pushed away by Sandra. I don't and didn't want anything more than to know this man, and now he's gone with the truth. All I wanted was to speak with him and to let him know he had a grand child, I just wanted him to know my name and my son's name. NOTHING MORE..... I'm not putting this here to shame him or anyone else. This is the way I feel and felt when I heard he passed. I wanted to try and contact him again but was told he passed. All I could do was cry and hate the fact I let someone push me away from getting to know obviously a great man. R.I.P Huley Brown Sr. one day we shall meet.

He was NOT related to you or anyone you know. I would stop lying about it if I were you. You know what you were trying to do and you should be ashamed of yourself. Get a life and stop posting your lies.

“ As his oldest son, I must first thank all of you that have commented. He was much more than just a dad to me. To have the honor of wearing his name is greater than I could have ever imagined. He was a Man. He is a great example of how to live and serve. I miss him quite a bit. I am also very glad that I could spend so much time with him before this occurred. It gave me a sense of closure. I sometimes still cannot believe he is gone. However, Mom is still here. Please continue to pray for her and Steve and Sandra. We all need prayer from time to time, but Mom really needs support. I also wish to thank all of those who came to the funeral and sent my family prayers, did some incredible things and supported us all along the way. My father taught me many lessons by his actions. I am very proud to be his son and wear his name. I only pray that I can be worthy of such an honor.

In the book of James chapter 2, verses 14-26, you will find what my father taught me about faith and how works justify faith. There are many more lessons he taught me by living them, not just talking. Thank you, Robert, for your words. Thanks you, Marneta, for your words. I have never forgotten about you. I hope the service is posted here soon so that you may see Charles Brown sing. I did not know he was THAT GOOD! Thank you, Chris Gill, for your message. Thank you all for posting something and having enough love in your hearts to let us know you care. I know God will see us through it!

May God bless you and keep you all!

“ To the Brown's family: Your father, grandfather and great grandfather will truly be missed. He was like a father to me. He made me feel as if i was part of his family and i truly felt that. He spent many hours talking to me about life, work, and how to serve the Lord. In my opinion, he had the patience of JOB and the wisdom of Solomon. A characteristic i truly admired.

I have found memories of him and his group in the basement singing. They really could sing.

For some people there are some phone numbers that you never forget, the brown's number i will never forget. Mrs. Brown i truly love you so stay prayed up for your husband is waiting for you.

“ It seems surreal that Mr. Brown has made his transition. I just turned 40 and I met Mr. Brown as a 4 year old when my family moved three doors up from him and people always wondered were we related because of our same last name, I'd always say no but I realize the answer should've been yes because he never treated me any less than family, to the family, I love you all dearly and sincerely and with the help of the Lord we will get through this as we hold the memory of this loving kind Husband, Father, Grandfather, Uncle, Brother, Cousin and Friend dear in our hearts.

“ Even though we did not know your loved one personally we are truly sorry to hear of your loss. Our condolences go out to you and your family. Often during difficult times people turn to the bible. Two scriptures that come to mind are Revelations 21:3,4 and Acts 24:15. I hope that these verses are comforting to you.

“ Sorry for the loss of your loved one, Huley. Isaiah 25:8 says "He will actually swallow up death forever, and the Sovereign Lord Jehovah will certainly wipe the tears from all faces."

“ 09/29/12 On behalf of my family, I want to pass along our deepest sympathy to Aunt Gill (Bernice), Huley Jr., Stephen and Sandy. I was devastated to hear the news when my Mother-In-Law called me today. Although we will not be able to attend the service, we will keep all of you in our prayers.

I am glad that I had a chance to see Uncle Huley and Aunt Gill this summer when we returned to Flint for a couple of days. I had no idea it would be the last time.

May the Lord bless and keep all of you as you go through this difficult time.

Sincerely,

Christopher Allen Gill and Family

“ I remember my Uncle so well, the few times I did see him he always made me feel as if we had just spoke yesterday. I had much to Thank him for and am so happy I did so when I had the chance. My only regret is for more time. My heart is heavy, yet I surrender my own bearance in return for solace to his Loved Ones. You are in my Prayers, as well as my heart and though we are miles apart, I will be with you always, for I will always have an Uncle Huley! God bless you all, and I pray you have strength at this most difficult time. Love Always, Yolanda
