“ From the first time I met Sis. Louis it felt like I've been knowing her a long time. One of the things that I loved about her was she loved talking about the goodness of God. Even through her health challenges her faith in God never wavered. The last weeks before her vacation she passed out gifts to people God put on her heart. She gave me a necklace that said someone in Heaven loves you. She told me now I understand your go through. She was talking about parents burying their children. We hugged each other with happy tears. Sis. Louis was a happy saint who loved to praise God through everything. I'm going to really miss her running around the church rejoicing. Rest on Sis. Louis rest on.
