“ I regret Jame's demise at such an early age. He truly fought the good fight in trying to overcome his health challenges. I will always remember him as a warrior, a respecter of education, a family man, and a pleasant co-worker. We used to have coffee in the mornings and converse about social issues. We had many challenges to overcome at Die Design. He loved his wife and children and wanted to make sure they each got higher education. My deepest sympathy is extended to you and prayers of strength that God will sustain you in days to come. Tamara Perrin

“ We all know that James put up a good fight. He now rests from all of his labors.

Many times he brought joy into our hearts with the humor of his jokes. No matter what mood you were in, you had to perk up with laughter.

Gwinda, my sister, I admire you and your strong testimony of strength you presented to us, which give up another reason to give praises to our Lord.

Remember that God will carry you when you feel that you can't do it for yourself.

I read a statement once where the author was unknown, it became my comfort whenever I was going through something. ?Love leave behind more than death can ever take away?. Be encouraged my sister.

“ James always had a way of bringing light to any conversation. I will remember James for mastering the art of disguising a joke with a serious conversation. Half way through you could see the smile appearing on his face that he finally couldn't hold back - that's when you knew he had you! I hope that all who knew him, remember the JOY he blessed their life with. My prayers go out to the the Family and Friends.

“ Gwinda and Children,

God will bless you for the love and care you gave to James during his long illness. There was never a moment that he could have felt alone, because you were always there. We will miss James, but God knows best. You will remain in our prayers.

“ Gwenda, know that my prayers are with you in your time of sorrow. He will always be as close as a memory away. I found this poem, and hope you find comfort in it:

Accept My Sympathy

*At a time like this it's oh so hard;
To know just what to say.
For I know inside you're hurting;
In a very painful way.*

*Please know that I am with you;
You are in my thoughts and prayers.
And know that I am one of many;
Who feels for you and cares.*

*Just know that they have now gone home;
And their in a better place.
And they have seen the Lord above;
And the light from his sweet grace.*

*In time the pain will fade away;
Along with all your tears.
And you will smile once again;
On shared memories from past years.*

Poem by Betty Hawkins

I know that Christ will see you through, and God will hold you in His arm's.

“ James was a really good person. He had a good sense of humor & was very honest. James was a fierce fighter for what he believed in. He didn't allow anyone to bully him or take advantage of him. There should be more people with this kind of integrity. He will be surely missed.
