“ To the family of Mr. Person,
I would like to convey my deepest sympathy to all who knew and loved Mr. Person. I do not know any of you, but I know exactly what you are going through. I lost the love of my life suddenly, my Daddy. He was in his car riding thru downtown Flint when he had a medical condition also. His car had hit a pole and the pole crushed the car but my Daddy was already gone. His heart was 38 yrs, 3 months, and 1 day old when it stopped. Very sudden and that is the way we all want to go, no suffering, just out. But when it happens, those left behind, us -we do all the suffering. After the shock wears off you realize that murder didn't claim his life. You're thankful that there was decision to be made about turning off the machine. There's no time to hold a prayer vigil, with the Prayer Warriors, as my sister Trina calls it. There's no time worry, no time for operations, no codes. The angels came and collected your loved one on the time and day that the Good Lord decided for him when he sent him here as a newborn. That's how I look at things now. You will see your loved one again, he will come to you in your dreams and you will pick up where you left off, forever. Trust me. I only speak of what I know. And what I know I learned thru experience. At first I thought I was crazy, but living has changed my mind. There is life after death, all they did was shed the expired shell. Their spirit is here with us. They see all and they know all. If everyone believed that, the crime rate would drop. I heard when I was a young girl that they all are 30 on the other side. I believe that now, I dreamed about my Daddy a month ago and he was playing basketball, he'd be 70 if he were over here, in a nice gray hook up. And he is so gorgeous!!!! I'm older than him and I look it. There's no medical conditions over there. Talk to him. Let him know that you haven't forgotten him. He's not worried about it but he needs to hear and see that you are okay. So talk to him becuz he can't read your mind. God bless
