“ Mr. James was a bright light that I could look forward to every morning. He was my sports buddy. Whether it was me blaring the Michigan Fight Song after a weekend victory and hearing him say "Alright, Alright" or him asking me every Monday how my Fantasy teams did over the weekend. No doubt you had a hand in giving Ohio State their 4th loss in a row to us and when the Lions make that Super Bowl, we'll all know you gave them that extra push!! You were always talking about your wife, kids, grandkids with so much love! I'd send him any videos I saw of Isaiah and unfortunately he and I both injured our foot on the same day but as I told Mr. James "Isaiah did it being a NBA star, all I did was slip off a ladder!" LOL His positive attitude spread, no matter what he was going through, he always had a smile on his face and greeted everyone like family. Rest easy Mr. James and keep an eye on all of us down here. Much love to your family. Go Blue!

“ Every morning I would greet Mr. James with, "My Brotha" to which his reply would be, "My Sista" (with that big, friendly grin on his face)! We were supposed to retire together. But, I will be thinking of you as I cross that threshold, God willing, one day! This is a hard pill to swallow. Such a nice, caring and friendly guy. He was so protective of us here at Plaza One. He treated us ALL like we are his family. I already miss you "MY BROTHA", until we meet again. To his beautiful wife, thank you for bringing him to the building a month ago. We were so happy to see him as he was seeing us! Didn't know it would be my last time but I will forever cherish knowing our angel here at Plaza One. Love you Mr. James, may you rest in peace.
