“ I know its hard to lose someone you only had a short time to love. We are not to bury our children. My thoughts and prayers are with your family. I have a 17 year old daughter who i worry about daily for the same reason of what happened to Kadijah. God be with you.

“ The sky has inherited a new and most beautiful star. It is brighter and more beautiful than any other. And when you see this star, you will know it's Kadijah. She will always be with us, every hour of every day, in everything that we do because we carry her in our hearts. I know this doesn't take away the pain, but in time, hearts will heal. The Heavens have opened the door for Kadijah and she is awaiting our arrival. I love you all and you are in my prayers.

“ Family of Kadijah,

Although I did not know Kadijah personally I am terribly sorry for your loss. I cannot even imagine what you are going through. How true Solomons inspired words found at Ecclesiastes 9:11 that "time and unforeseen occurence befall us all." As long as this wicked world continues this scripture will continue to prove true. However there is still hope. God promises that by means of His kingdom, all of the pain and suffering we face today will be done away with. "Death will be no more, neither will mourning nor outcry nor pain be anymore (Rev.21:4)." We also have the opportunity to see our dead loved ones again. Acts 24:15 says "and I have hope toward God, which hope these [men] themselves also entertain, that there is going to be a resurrection of both the righteous and the unrighteous." What a wonderful hope!!! Think of how happy her daughter would be to see her mother again. Please continue to pray to "the God of all comfort" and take in knowledge of him and his son and he will by no means forsake you.

*with sympathy,
J.B*
