Kermit Alfonso Welch, Jr. was born on February 2, 1937 in Sherrill, Arkansas, the second of three children to parents Kermit Sr. and Mary (Stephenson) Welch. He came to know and accept the Lord Jesus Christ as his personal Savior and was baptized at a young age. As a high school student, he and his family moved from Pine Bluff, Arkansas to Flint, Michigan. Kermit graduated from Flint Northern High School. While there, he was a good student and excelled as a member of the track team. Upon graduation, Kermit worked a few jobs before joining General Motors where he would begin his career. Kermit trained as a paratrooper in the 101st Airborne Division where he completed numerous successful parachute jumps and received an honorable discharge. He subsequently earned an Associate of Science (A.S.) degree from Flint Junior College (now Mott Community College) and became an Electrician which led to a career at General Motors Corporation Chevrolet Truck and Bus Division that spanned over 50 years. Kermit met and married Constance (Wynn) Welch and they raised five children together. During his lifetime he served as President of the Flint Black Caucus, Shop Committeeman and Photographer for UAW Local 598.
