“ I first met Lavera in kindergarten. I would walk home with her and her mother. She moved and we reunited at Northwestern in 1970. We were good friends in high school. I just spoke to her about not attending class reunion in August. She was her old feisty self. I was so shocked to hear of her passing. She will be sadly missed and especially that special laugh of hers. My condolences to her family. Sandra Rouse-Thames

“ Hello There,

I'd been trying to call your sister on her cell since September and kept getting the voice mail is full, so I thought she was in the hospital for a hot minute. I finally called JoAnn's and Ally told me she passed around the time I started I explained to her that your parents migrated from Texas to Michigan and that the funeral home was located where LaVera was raised.

I first met your sister on the DMA plaza concert featuring Branford Marsalis. She had brought her portable blender along with some cranberry sauce and I had fresh strawberries. We bonded over daquiris on the plaza. I got to meet your brother and mother (who decided margaritas and nachos weren't a bad thing) during Thursday's "Jazz in the Atrium". This year she missed April's Jazz Month celebrations because she was working at JoAnn's on the weekends.

I'll always treasure the Nemo and Angry Bird Christmas presents she gave me several years ago. I pray that God sends the comforter to you, your brother, her favorite nieces and nephew plus a grand baby (by a girl she didn't like!) at this difficult time. My cell number is in your sister's phone if you need anything. Call me on her phone and I'll know that it's the one Campbell I never met because you were in Africa

*Sincerely,
"VB" Veronica*
