“ The time has come that we have to say good-by for now but I will always have the memory's of the times we had together, the smiles you brought to every life you touched, the fish tell of the big one, I have a picture of you and the big one, I will miss you calling to tell me about going hunting, how you raided the corn field and cook corn on the grill, I will miss you pulling in after driving all night and you telling me how many miles you drove just to get home, I still can hear you telling how you drove fifty four hours from California to be by moms side after she got sick , you drove the camper and parked it at the hospital so we could go out and sleep, you would take my chair put me on the banks of the river so I could fish you would tell me not to see a snake but before you were gone I would let out a yell Leroy you would come running., That is why when I was call I had to come running for you did it for me all my life, now it is so hard to image that Leroy want come when I call. But in my mien you will come for I will just close my eyes call, Leroy, Bob, Glen, and Aileen for I know if there is any such thing all of you will come running.
