Lewis Driskell Sr., a family patriarch to many, was a steady presence, a connector, and a quiet leader. As a founding member and longtime president of The Moore Family Reunion, he understood that family does not remain united by chance, but by intention. Through wisdom, selflessness, and unwavering commitment, he helped establish a tradition that has endured for generations and continues today because of the foundation he helped lay.

His leadership was marked by humility, service, and a deep respect for family bonds. His legacy lives on in the reunions he helped sustain, the relationships he nurtured, and the example he set for those who followed. He will be deeply missed and always remembered with honor and gratitude. James Henry “ Sincere condolences to Mr. Driskell’s family. He was a skilled and calming influence on the board of trustees at church for decades. He was also an astute business man as the founder and owner of a printing company and advised me and prepared large format projects for medical staff meetings at the hospital. Lewis always had kind words and a smile.
