“ What a blessing Lois has always been in my life. She treated me as a daughter rather than a daughter-in-law. I can hear her sweet voice even now. Every time I had the privilege of traveling to Flint or being in her presence, Lois would say, "Wanda, how is your mother?" Then she would make sure I let Hazel Dorothy know that Lois asked about her. What I will miss the most is Lois' sweet, gentle and quiet spirit. What a godly woman.
