“ Mom life will be very hard now. The lord knew you was tired. What I can't understand is why so soon and quick we went from laughing and joking and talking about taking family pictures when you come home from the hospital to us leaving at 8:45 to you going on life support soon after. My heart is busted and my body is tired. But my heart is with you in heaven and yours is with me on earth. I can't believe it momma.

I will be ok because the lord did not want you to suffer which I can understand.

Mom I hope you was looking done at us yesterday the planning was hard to do and stressful. But I made it thru it. I hope you liked it I wanted you to go out with a nice service. And most important to bring your 4 boys together and to brace each other!!

Rev. Griffin did a great job also sis Johnson did you favorite solo. Which I enjoyed a lot!

I returned to your grave after service was over and I no I will be there every day to see you

I love you so much and I will se you soon.

“ Dear Family you all are Very Loved.
Words can not express the love one has for a
Mother, or understand the Loss of a Mother.
Only God care give you the Best at heart on surviving that loss, so Lean on God as hard, as long & as Much as you need God will never leave your side.
I Love You My Family.....

“ Mom: This day have came for you to go home to grandpa and grandma. (Make sure you give them a kiss for me) The lord knew what was best for you in your stage of life. Mom us 4 boys will miss you so much. These days are hard and I would never understand why. I'm lost and have every memory running threw my head right now it plays like a movie. Every morning now I just look at my phone waiting on your call and my phone never ring. This will be hard to overcome. To lose you at this time is hard and will be hard to believe it. The only thing I can say is you is in a better place now and with your family that you haven't seen in a long time.

Remember to keep running momma.

*The love for you mom will never be lost.....
I love you mom*
