“ On today, 12 years have past that you were lifted away from us. Our daughter is one of the most amazing human beings ever. She is intelligent, beautiful, witty and humorous just like you. Your walking talking twin to be exact. We miss you SO much but know that glide always looking down on her, covering her with your protection and blessings. I LOVE YOU.

“ It is so crazy how things happen. I just seen him it seems like the other day. I was very close friends with Cedric as a matter of fact with the family. To the family, I am sorry to hear about the passing of such a great guy, who made me laugh even when he was sick. I remember coming over to help him after surgery and him laughing until he hurt. Keep his memory alive. I pray the family is blessed and continually grateful for Marcus and time he was granted to us.

“ There are no words or even prayers that can bring Marcus back to your lives; so I won't try. However, there are some people that you meet and you immediately gravitate to them because of their loving personalities ;Marcus Holbrook was indeed one of these people. Whether you met him for the first time or was apart of his inner circle, he greeted you with the same smile and humble demeanor. It has saddened my heart to know that he's had to answer his call from the Lord, but he will definitely be remembered as the gentleman, scholar and obvious comedian he was. In the days, months and even years to come I pray that the Lord will comfort your hearts through fond memories of your loved one. Truly his family, friends, and acquaintances have lost a jewel, but God has called him from labor to reward.
