“ Lou was a good friend and a great person. She moved in with me and helped me through my illness and I will always be grateful to her for not only that but for being the caring and loving person she was. Just think now she is with her mother, sister and all her family that went before her. I'm just so glad she is not suffering anymore. She might not be here physically but she will stay in my thoughts and prayers forever.

Tresia Givens - June 28, 2017 at 11:18 AM

Mother, I will treasure every moment God blessed me to spend with you! I will NEVER forget, your kindness, your realness, your genuine love for others, your sacrifice for those, who many times forgot you, or took advantage of your kindness. Only to cause you to be blessed, for all you did. While they cursed themselves, for the evil done, unto one of his own!

I will miss the smile, the encouragement, the sincere instructions and especially the LOVE, that you instilled in my heart!

Until we meet again, my darling mother!
