“ It has been 2 plus years, the more things change the more they stay the same. I'm dating and I find myself comparing them to you. You left some big shoes to fill. I don't know if I found the right one for me at this time but I bet when I finish grooming him he'll be a better man for somebody, because of the things you and I experienced and learned from one another, and I have passed on to him. I love you Michael, Always!

“ It's now been 6 months since your passing, It's so hard for me to move on I still refer to u as my boyfriend, when I'm talking about you which is very often. Moving on is not an option, its something that I know I have to do but the question is when? and how? I'm sure it will all work out sooner or later. My love for you is as strong today as it was 6 months ago, Thank you Lord for the experience to give love and be loved.

“ It's been 4 months today that you've been gone I find myself constantly thinking of you. It's the time of year when we would be making plans on a vacation, it's going to be so hard to go back to all the places we use to go together. Missing you fess cause I fall asleep when you think I should be awake, or fussing cause I go back to the hotel earlier than u would so I could get a power nap. I miss all of that, NO ONE can ever replace you, or will have an impact on my life like you. Missing you and loving you,

“ Last year the weekend after valentines day we went on a weekend getaway, just for us to get some time alone away together. We stayed at the Embassy Suites and had a wonderful weekend and promised to do it every year there after, with that time coming near, I have all these thoughts overflowing in my mind. How things coulda, woulda been, all in all I just thank GOD for the time we had together, wish we could have had more, You made such an impact on my life, we learned a lot from one another, we shared a lot, stayed on the phone when we were'nt together. Now I have all these voids but I'm leaning and depending on GOD to see me thru this. I love you so much and miss you so much!

But most of all I'll miss you for the wonderful person that I knew you were. Not only did you tell me you love me but you showed me in so many ways. It hurt to see you go but I know God had a plan. Death can't kill nor can human hands bury the Love I will always have for you. I thank GOD everyday for the time he gave us.

*With Much LOVE

“ It's been just over a month since you've been gone, this is one of the hardest things I've ever had to face in my life. I'll miss all the trips we use to take out-of-town. The caring way you would fuss at me about taking my high bp medicine. The trips to Wal-mart that I would joke and say was our date. Home depot and lowes dates, all the shopping trips you had me on, it's funny because of the two of us you were the shopper. The many restaurants we would go to, I think we tried just about everything new on Miller Rd.
