“ *Moma, I enjoyed the long talks we had about Obama's presidential success, hunger, schools, the importance of education, cooking recipes and everthing wrong in society,
You and I solved all those problems in a two hour or more conversation,
We discovered the world together and more important I learned first hand that your value is worth more the all the gold in the universe,
I look forward to meeting you again at the gates of heaven so that we can continue our perfect moments eternally.*
