“ When you lose someone that is more than a friend life changes with each passing moment. A portion of trust, honesty, caring, & love diminishes among people. when someone loves you as though they birth you spiritually. The tangible connection is there to get you through every rough and dry place.

My ride or die, always encouraged me to do above and beyond what I could ever expect or think. My number one fan in everything I did. My rebuke when I did something that didn't quite line up with my character or the word of God.

An emotion unexplainable right now.

Love you to the next life... SLEP IN HEAVENLY PEACE

“ I give my sincere condolences to Albert (Jr.), Michael, Greg, Terry and Traci. Ms. Muriel and I had a good chat a few months ago and she remembered events from the Baltimore Blvd. neighborhood that I had forgotten. Down through the years she was a zealous worker for the Lord, especially for the musical groups that she supported. Love to all, Carol

“ To the Mitchell Family: I am sorry to hear of Ms Muriel's passing. I have fond memories of her standing in the front door of her house in Baltimore St. calling out one of her kid's name. I had a chance to reconnect with her a couple years ago at a church program. We relived past memories and brought it up to date. What a blessing Ms Muriel has been to many! She's resting in the Lord. You all are in my prayers. Julie Taylor if Baltimore St.
