“ To the family of Neal, My deepest sympanthy goes to all of you, I feel like i know you guys just from talking to you during the week. Just to let all of you guys know, i was a real true friend, and i loved him very much. It's hard because when i am having just a mad day, or need someone to talk to it's going to be hard, because i will not hear his kind words just telling me that it will be o.k. I love all of you and take care of each other. He always wanted to leave Flint, know he has had his chance.

“ Nett and Neal - You all have our deepest condolences in this time of loss. Being a parent is a great responsibility and a great privilege. Sometimes God doesn't explain everything to us but it's seem unfair that he would permit something like this to happen. Keep you minds stayed on him for he will give you comfort through this. We will continue to lift you up in our prayers.

I am praying for both of the families that God will strengthen and take us through in this time of bereavement. We must know that God is faithful and will not allow our burdens to out weigh His blessings.

“ Nette and Neal- and to the entire Payton-Rice family- You are in my prayers. I wish I could be at the services- but due to travel on my job, I will be out of town. As I prayed for you over the phone- Know that God has a plan and purpose for all things. And we know that His purpose and will is that we all draw closer to him and come into the family of Christ. I love you and will keep in touch. Be blessed from the Wise (Payton) family in Lansing, Michigan.

“ To: Devon's family,

I wish you strength in your time of need. Devon and I have always been friends through the years. I believe I may have spent more time at your house than at my own?°. I am regretful that I am not able to be there this afternoon; however, I will always cherish my memories of our good times.

“ To Nette and your entire family. Nette I didn't know that it was your son that died in that madness until the nite b4 Kevin's funeral. My prayers have gone out to you and your family. I never got to meet your son but he was beautiful. It's so sad the way people feel that htey have the right to just take a life. It's been too many already this year. Death is sad enough when it happens the way Greg's, Wep, and Brenin's did but when some evil being decide to take matters into their own hands and end a life, it's messed up. I've lost 3 friends to violence this year already and then I find out that someone I have known my whole life had lost their baby to this madness- it's really messed up. That's not the word I want to say but I've got to be respectful. I know it's going to take a lot more than time to help you heal. All I can offer are words that I'm sure you have heard over and over. There is so much evil in this world it seems like people forget that God sees all. They think they've gotten away with it but He sees all and knows all, there's no place to hide. The sooner these demons realize that the better we all will be. You have my heartfelt sympathy and my prayers. May God bless and keep you all-Naye & family.
