“ Vivian and family,

I am so sorry about your loss. I know it hurts, but what will bring comfort right now is Jehovah's God words from the Bible, Revelation 21:3, 4. . ."no more sickness, no more pain and no more death." We all look forward to a world with this, it is coming very soon. Please pray and stick together as a family, it will help endure the pain. Vivian, you have been a source of encouragement for me, in my dealing with the same issue. I thank you for that and will reciprocate that love.

“ Vivian, may God keep you and your family during this time of grief. I know it doesn't seem like it now, but each day will get better and better. In times like these, memories are such great comforts to the broken heart. Hold on to God and each other. Remember the love shared with your father, the funny moments that made you laugh until you cried, and those unforgettable talks that carried you through life. These are the things that make losing a love one just a little bit better. Only time dear heart can heal your sorrow, but love can bandage your wound. I'm thinking of you and God is too.

“ I pray that God's love and mercy will console you and your family and lift you up and comfort you in your time of bereavement. Know that God loves you and He will protect and comfort your heart and stop your tears as your father is in a better place with no more pain and suffering. If I can do anything for you or your family please let me know. My prayers and thoughts are with you and your family.

“ Vivian,
Mr. Russell has passed on from death to life. Although it leaves you and your family sad as well as all of us who knew him, we can rejoice in knowing that God has given Mr. Russell the ultimate gift, his crown of eternal life. And, knowing Mr. Russell he is wearing it proudly.

Isaiah 61:2-3 says that those who mourn will be comforted and those who grieve will be provided for. I am praying your peace, comfort, and traveling grace.

*Heartfelt Regards,
Sandi*
