“ To My Cousin Stanley,
May God keep you in this time of your loss. You were such a blessing to Aunt BB and she loved you so much. And you were always right there for her even until the end. It is never easy to deal with the loss of our loved ones, but we were raised to know that God does not make mistakes and He Knows Best! He will not put anymore on you than you can bear. You just remain strong and know that she is watching over you from above. I will always remember her and in the way she would call me "Rosieeee". No one could say it like her. She was so much fun to be around. Always remember her love for you and know that you are loved by all your family and friends.

God Bless You,
Your Cuz,
Rose

“ Although we were not close I appreciated what she did for me. May God open his arms and welcome her home.

God Bless her son Stanley, may God comfort him in his time of mourning.

*Blessed are they who mourn,
for they shall be comforted.*

“ *When Sorrow comes upon you and you feel you can't go on.
Remember there's a Savior up yonder, waiting for us to come on home. He hath prepared the way, through the cross upon Calvary's hill. He'll wipe away all teardrops, when we heed His blessed will.
He wipes away all teardrops from His children's eyes, with His love.
He's readying our mansions, where we'll live when we're lifted above.*

*When we sin and ask Him to forgive, then we're like new again.
He wipes away every teardrop from each woman, child, or man.
Can't you feel His love inside your heart, most every day?
I can feel His love rushing into my heart, as I softly, to Him pray.
Someday, He'll carry us under His wing, to the wondrous shore, over there.*

And upon our heads, as He takes us home.

Maybe a halo we'll wear.

We'll see all loved ones, who have journeyed on before us, up there. And I can think about the love of my Savior and pray in awesome prayer to a Savior who's waiting for that day when, in glory, there we'll be above. In a mansion built not with hands, but with the Holiness of His love.

He'll wipe away all teardrops from our eyes; no more pain or sorrow will ever be again.

As He brings us into Heavens' sweet tomorrow.

Help us to be worthy, Oh Lord. Help all to accept Thine own Son.

That Satan's work will vanish, as you take us

Up to The Great Beyond.

May God Bless and Keep you.
