“ Hi daddy today marks one year since you have been in Heaven and oh how I miss you more than I ever have. It seems like everyday that goes by it just gets worse for me because I think of all the things you will miss. I am trying so hard to get the help that I need to get through this grief but it is truly so hard me and your grandkids miss and love you so much!!!! please understand that no matter what we will always love you!!!!

“ I still can't believe you are gone..I am so use to you calling me, & discussing your plans for the day, or how your day went..it breaks my heart to know I will no longer here your crazy jokes, your contagious laugh, or smell the scent of your cologne..I miss you already big bro..I wish you would've had more time with us & more time to make awesome memories...but God had different plans for you instead.. I want you to know that you will forever be in our hearts & never be forgotten. We have learned a lot from you believe it or not..but one thing that sticks in my head is family first..I love you from the bottom of my soul & no matter what I know you are still with us spirituality!

“ Daddy, as I sit here and write this I think of how much I Love you and how much you mean to me. I miss you so much and it hurts my body my heart my soul. I will never let you be forgotten. Your grandkids will know who you are and how much you loved them. I pray everyday thinking this is just a dream that I can't wake up from. But no matter what I have always loved you and that will never change.

“ My heart is heavy and I sit here and think of the Birthday, Mothers Day, Christmas calls I won't get any longer. Or the crazy laughter and sound effects when watching TV I won't get to hear any longer. Or the dream of owning a bakery shop won't be shared with me from time to time. There are so many wonderful memories I have of my brother but the ones that showed as being the peacemaker of the crew is the one that we all remember the most.

“ It's not the time we lost but the time we had with him. All the good times the funny things he did. Remember that special thing he used to do. So when you are sitting feeling all alone and someone else does that exact same thing you will smile because you are reminded of him.

“ Scott was a gentle and humble man. He went through a lot in his life, but he had the biggest heart of anyone I've ever known. I remember all the family rip sessions and I swear, I can still hear Scott's laughter. I also think of Scott as a peacemaker! Scott was a brother, a protector, and a friend. Brother, you truly are an angel!

“ If we are sharing childhood memories I remember when Scott and Anthony had to babysit me (I was so bad I needed two lol). I refused to take a nap until they sung to me. Scott would get one of dads hats and sing "little friskies ain't we got fun...beek" I would giggle terribly.

“ It is always unfortunate to have a loved one pass away so suddenly but just remember that his time with us has expired. He is now with God who has called him back home to now serve his heavenly purpose. My heart aches for the family and just know I am here for each and every one of you.

“ I have many memories of my brother but the ones I would like to share are when we were little, Scott used to sit in the recliner of our living room with a set of drum sticks (with no drum) lol & beat on can lids and sing.. I too remember his laugh..He had a distinctive laugh, you just knew who it was without seeing his face..His laugh was contagious to everyone who came around him..I also remember when Tom, Scott, & Dean use to play Karate with Scott..lol he always had a way of making babysitting fun..Scott always got yelled at for using whole bags of sugar in one day..lol I miss you Scott..

“ When I was little Scottie would babysit me and most of the time I was put in the corner (I was a blt of a trouble maker)before my parents would leave they would give him strict instructions not to let me out but Scottie being the big softy that he was would always let me out as soon as they left, and then share his snacks and sugar water with me (he loved sugar water) gross I know lol anyway as soon as my parents would pull up he would hurry me back to the corner and tell them I was a lttle angel healso taught me how to ride a bike and moonwalk (his version lol) I could go on and on but the main thing that will forever stick out in my mind is his laugh he always had such a great laugh that was extremely infectious to everyone around him.
