“ First I'd like to send my condolences to Tonya's family and close friends and send my regrets for not being able to be present for this ceremony. Know that I am here in spirit.

The gift of life is so precious. All of us have a very short time between our births and our deaths. So the question is: what are we going to do with this gift?

No one escapes this life without pain and hardship. It's part of what it means to be human. Many people get overwhelmed with the difficulties of their circumstances and lose perspective on how precious the gift of life really is. They worry about themselves, they get stuck in their thoughts, they focus on what they don't have. But some are so grateful for this precious gift they let the love and light of God shine through them onto others. Some people are able to, as the Bible says " Trust in the Lord with all [their hearts]." Tonya Davis was one of those people.

I was fortunate to know Tonya Davis for most of my life. I met her as a young boy when my mother, Cathe, became friends with Tonya after she had her first daughter, Keisha. She immediately made an impression on me with her infectious energy, playful nature, strong will, and graciousness. I became close friends with her younger brother Roashell where we remain in touch until this day. Like her younger brother, Tonya's purity of heart was astounding. Even though I left Flint 25 years ago for college in Tennessee and then on to Chicago and now Colorado, I've enjoyed the blessing of keeping in touch with her over the phone and via text.

A recent text reads: "Hey David you came across my mind I hope and pray everything is well with you just give me a call I just want to hear your voice." I have no doubt many of you here today got similar messages from her without any notice. As loving as she was to me she also never hesitated to put me in my place if she felt I was in the wrong. Other than my mother, Tonya Davis is the only woman I feared letting down. When she spoke, I listened. Period. I'll continue to feel Tonya's presence even though no more texts will be coming through and I won't be able to hear her voice on the other end of a phone call.

*So as I grieve the transitioning of Tonya's soul out of her body and back to be with God, I'll be reflecting on the lessons she taught me through her example. Be the best you can be. Replace bad habits with good ones. Be grateful for what you have. Don't be afraid to be who you are. Believe in yourself. Love others unconditionally. Let the light of God shine through you onto others in order to bring light where there is darkness. Have the courage to make changes for the better, even if it may feel insurmountable. And receive the gift of God's love - delivered to all of us through this one precious life - with humility and grace. Thank you so much Tonya. I love you.
